

money Everett was living in the main dwelling house, isn't that correct? A. Yes.

Q And he continued to live there till he died, isn't that correct? A. Yes.

Q Did he operate the place as a farm or place to raise cattle and so forth?

A Well, sometimes he put out a little corn; he had chickens; raised calves - like that.

Q Where did you move immediately after you moved off this property?

A Rock Spring farm.

Q And did you buy a farm very shortly after that?

A I was down there three years and left and bought a little place up near Hyattstown, or Thurston, rather.

CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. DELAUTER:

Q Mr. Moxley, when you occupied this premises and moved to some dairy - what was it?

A Rock Spring farm.

Q Where is that?

A It is about six miles off of Rockville on the Norbeck road.

Q You hadn't bought that farm, had you?

A No, I was just working there by the month.

Q And you had to live on the premises?

A Yes.

Q And you lived there a number of years, did you?

A I lived there three years.

Q When you left the property in question here what was done with it? What was done about it?

A Which property?

Q This property?

A The Rock Spring farm?

Q No, when you moved from the Moxley property to the Rock Spring farm?
